Adult Novice Recreational Hockey

January 2nd - April 16th, 2012

About Novice Recreational Hockey

Attention inexperienced and beginner adult hockey players! There is now an introductory program designed to help beginner and novice hockey players get started playing recreational hockey.

Novice Recreational Hockey is great for players just getting into the game and is designed as a transitional program for players coming out of a skills program and looking to start playing in organized games. Players should have completed or be currently enrolled in FMC's Adult Instructional program, or have some previous playing experience. Novice Recreational Hockey's weekly organized pick-up games will be played in a controlled scrimmage environment with coaches serving as referees on the ice to both oversee the games and assist new players as they begin to adapt to game play. Teams will be divided based on ability to keep the games fun and competitive. Games will be played on Monday nights beginning at 9:00pm.
